

Functional Capacity Evaluation

Functional Capacity Evaluation (FCE) or Physical Work Performance Evaluation (PWPE). Providence uses ErgoScience program for FCE, however there are many other systems that are available.

An ErgoScience FCE is a one day 3-4 hour test that determines an individual's capabilities for performing physical work and can be used to evaluate physical work performance and ability:

- After injury
- After prolonged illness
- Prior to employment
- Qualifications for disability compensation
- Guidelines for work hardening and reconditioning